Crowds Jubilant Over End Of Iron Curtain In Berlin

BERLIN, May 12—(AP)—The Russians pulled up their German Iron Curtain today, ending their 37-day-old Berlin blockade, major spot of the cold war.

Ground traffic flowed by rail and by highway, pouring supplies and passengers into the long-besieged capital city from the west for the first time in nearly 11 months.

The blockade-lifting had all the fanfare of a Hollywood movie premiere, and the people, convinced that at last this phase of the cold war was ended, whooped it up in the flag-decked city.

The Russian and western allied military outdid each other in courtesy as the barricades went down. There was a general display of good will.

But the western allies were taking nothing for granted. Their airlift, which had made the blockade a useless Soviet weapon by flying in the food, fuel and raw materials needed by west Berlin's 2,000,000 residents, continued flying. It is to continue at least 30 days, building a stockpile of supplies and giving a chance to really sound out Russian intentions.

Trains First In

Allied military trains, followed by food and fuel trains, were the first into Berlin after the barrier went down one minute after midnight. Foreign correspondents, racing down Hitler's famous super-highway, were the first into Berlin from the west.

The vehicles had a big send-off at the old barrier points, which had been cleared of steel and concrete obstructions by work crews.

The people, who had been slow to respond for days, really got into the mood. End of the blockade means for them the promise of fresh foods instead of the dehydrated stuffs the airlift had supplied them.

The political splitting of the city between east and west remained as deep as ever, however. Each still has its own police force, city government, fire department and other services.

So they closed the schools today, business houses planned to suspend work early, and the people thumped each other and swapped congratulations in public and informal gatherings.

The whole program went off with only two hitches, neither considered very serious as of now. The Russians insisted that Soviet-owned locomotives pull the trains. This the allies agreed to, subject to appeal to higher authority.

For hours Soviet guards refused to permit German trucks bound from Berlin to west Germany to pass their lines without licenses from the Soviet-controlled east. German administration or the Soviet military government. Finally the Russian officer at the clearing post left and the German police he had commanded waved the German drivers through, without explaining the reasons for the change of attitude.

RENEWS U. S. U. N. SUPPORT

President, In Speech, Rededicates His Work Toward Strong U. N.

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—President Truman pledged his administration anew today to full support of the United Nations despite "disappointment" at that organization's failure to achieve greater security for the world.

He submitted to congress a report on the U. N. which placed blame for the failure on Russia. At the same time he cited the development of the North Atlantic treaty, now awaiting senate ratification, as a means of bolstering the world organization.

Of America's role in the U. N., Truman said: "We have taken the lead in many fields of international relations. We can be proud of what we have done."

Includes Letter

His report, including a letter from Secretary of State Acheson, covered the year 1948 and reflected the bitter political conflicts which divided Russia and the west during that 12 months.

Acheson declared both "hope and disappointment" marked American participation in the U. N.

"The hope," he said, "grew out of the continuing feeling that the principles and purposes of the United Nations charter offer the best basis of a peaceful world with international justice and respect for individual human rights and that most members of the organization are working loyally in that direction."

"At the same time there was disappointment because of the failure of certain states to observe their obligations under the charter of matters which seriously affect the maintenance of peace."

On this latter point, Truman added:

"If the United Nations as a security organization has disappointed us, as the Secretary of State notes, and if we have had to take supplemental measures to meet actual or potential threats to our security, it is not because the United States has not put forth real efforts to develop the United Nations to its full stature."

"The world today is not the world we had hoped for when the San Francisco conference adjourned less than four years ago."

Acheson said the United States had taken the lead in keeping U. N. attention focused on the questions of the future government of Palestine, the independence of Korea, and the maintenance of the territorial and political independence of Greece. This country also played a "prominent part," he said, in attempts to bring peace to Indonesia.

What Was Licked?

It's reported that residents of Jersey City danced in the streets when they heard that Frank Hague's nephew had been licked in his race for mayor. The defeat marked the final collapse of the Hague political machine.

Jersey City's celebration may have been premature. If it can be assumed that its residents wanted to get rid of Hague, who bossed them for a third of a century, it would be stretching things pretty far to assume that they also have rid themselves of boss rule. They'll know more about that when they see how John V. Kenney, the new strong man of Jersey City politics, works out.

Jersey City's Hague was a national figure because he knew the tricks of minority rule. As boss of Jersey City, he became the most powerful figure in Jersey politics. And as kinsman of Jersey politics, he qualified automatically as one of the satraps of the national Democratic party, whose power is built on the boss-controlled cities of the north and the one-party states of the south. Boss Hague's reign in Jersey City may be at an end, but it's a safe bet that Hagueism will still be going strong in Jersey City for a long time to come. It's the trade secret of the Democratic party.

Who Won The First Round?

It has been evident from the beginning that the conveyor belt proposal before the Ohio General Assembly was something out of the ordinary—not only because of the engineering idea it embodied but because of the legislative problem it created.

Before the proposal was even submitted, it was being predicted that lobby pressure—chiefly from railroads—would kill it in the General Assembly. This has happened. Committees in the house and senate have buried it alive. The conveyor belt's backers have lost the first round.

But the strange thing is that no one has won the first round; it was merely lost. No one is any better off. Railroads have gained no new business.

The steel industry, which would be the beneficiary of the conveyor belt if private capital built it, isn't helped.

In brief, majorities in the two committees merely voted against something. They voted against it because they were afraid of it—or at least were afraid of someone who claimed to be afraid of it. One wonders what their decision may look like in a few more years if the conveyor belt principle of transporting bulk commodities is half as good as its backers believe it is.

The Ford strike, according to the strike leaders, was made necessary by a speedup. Whether this is the real reason or only a talking point, it would make interesting reading in Russia—which suppressed such news by an Iron Curtain.

In Russia, workers who speed up production are state heroes. They get medals. If they are willing to "rawhide" to the limit, they may get a chance to join the bureaucracy. This is because Russian economic planners despair of ever overtaking American production rates unless they can make workers bear down harder.

But in the United States, labor leaders view even a suspicion of a speedup as cause for righteous indignation. Strange as this is in itself, it becomes even stranger if the labor leaders are suspected of sympathy for the Marxist doctrine which is used in Russia to conceal from workers the singular fact they are being worked to death with no chance of reaching the living standards enjoyed by the "slaves" of Detroit.

Neglected Clue To A Mystery

The most popular example of rising prices is automobiles. Nearly everybody can cite from his own experience an increase of 100 percent, or more, in the price of the same make of car purchased in the late thirties.

The neglected clue to the mystery of why automobile prices have gone so high and auto taxes so high is taxes. Prices are being reduced as shortages of material are overcome. They may be reduced still further as competition stiffens. Within the limits of fixed costs of production, such as labor, price adjustments can be made. Taxes, of course, also are fixed.

An Executive in the auto industry has estimated that taxes add as much as $400 to the cost of a car. In other words, the only chance of getting back to the fondly remembered days of $1,000 cars is to do something about taxes. For those who wonder about such things, it would be a fine idea if manufacturers and distributors would list what part of the cost of each new automobile represents taxes. The price of automobiles like the price of many other things, would be lower if something could be done about the high price of government.

J. Edgar Hoover's Critics

The 25th anniversary of J. Edgar Hoover's insoucious start with the Federal Bureau of Investigation has called forth so many congratulations that the picture of this unusual public official is distorted.

It looks as if he were a man without critics. That's not the way it is. Mr. Hoover has been worked over by some of the meanest verbal maulers in the business of character assassination. Rarely a day passes that he isn't bludgeoned by the homegrown Commies.

From time to time he has been put over the barrel by politicians who hate a man they can't intimidate. His years in Washington, if he ever writes his memoirs, will be no tale of sweetness and light. Yet the fact is that Mr. Hoover, after 24 years, is well thought of. He has done such a good job that no one with any influence inside the government—at least not now—is trying to get rid of him.

That makes him the jobholding man of distinction. Any one who can stay in Washington a quarter of a century and do such a good job that no one dares to get rid of him deserves congratulations by the bushel.

WHILE the general tenor of events seems propitious, with most cherished desires, hopes and wishes coming to happy fulfillment, yet there are angles in which mistakes in judgment or conduct, feelings or emotions, could precipitate unwelcome interference, withdrawn support, or interference from elders, or others generally sympathetic and cooperative. A mood, illness, sullen or stubborn conduct, might upset the happy course of events.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find that their own inclinations toward unruly, disagreeable or ill-considered behavior could react on fairly promising and pleasant relations. This is true in business, credit, employment and in social and domestic relations. Illness, overwork or brooding might or could instill such mood, in which unsympathetic responses may be generated.

A child born on this day, may require some definite discipline as to its emotional instincts, or supervision of its physical condition, lest a moody attitude undermine favorable prospects.

Factors That May Cause Acne

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

I wish every mother could realize that young people with acne are in no way to blame for their bad complexions. I know because I have had this problem with most of my six youngsters.

Acne is a disease of the skin which frequently accompanies the process of growing up. It is not due to neglect of cleanliness and there is nothing shameful about it. If mothers only understood this, many a youngster would escape the unjust censure which is so often added to his other troubles. These, alone, are hard enough to put up with, including as they do blackheads, oily skin, enlarged pores and pimples. Many teenagers with this condition are further annoyed by oily, stringy hair, and excessive quantities of dandruff.

Number of Factors
Unfortunately, we do not know the exact cause of acne, but it seems that a large number of factors may be involved.

For example, there may be some glandular disturbance, particularly in these internal secretions which affect the skin. Diet, injuries to the skin, and the wrong type of cosmetics may also contribute to the development of acne.

According to Dr. Lester Hollander, the treatment for acne should include surgery, X-ray, proper cleansing, and the application of sulfur to the skin.

In carrying out the surgery, the patient lies down and his face is carefully washed with a liquid cream, which is wiped off thoroughly. Then, the face is washed again, this time with liquid soap. Next, the physician removes all the blackheads which are visible, using a special instrument called a blackhead extractor. It is important that all of the blackheads be expressed since, if any of the material is left behind, a pimple will form.

If pus has formed in the pimples, these are cut open with a knife and the material contained within is gently expressed. Following the treatment, the face is again washed with liquid soap and water and a sulfur-containing cream is patted on.

The foregoing procedure is carried out once a week for from three to four weeks, and thereafter once every two weeks or once a month as the need arises.

X-Ray Treatment

To decrease the activities of the fat glands, X-ray treatments are helpful. Of course, these must be carefully carried out by an expert.

The patient is instructed to cleanse his face thoroughly on arising, on returning from school, and on retiring. This consists of applying a soft skin oil or cream, thorough drying and wiping, washing in soap and water, and drying. Before retiring, a lotion containing sulphur is used.

It is important that acne be treated by a physician and that the treatment be thoroughly carried out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. R.: I have had tonsillitis for two months. What would you advise?

Answer: Continued infection to the tonsils may make it necessary to have them removed. However, treatment with drugs, such as the sulfonamides and penicillin, might clear up the infection.

It would be well to consult your doctor about this matter.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 43th St., New York City.

Bonn Selected By New German Powers

BONN, Germany, May 12—(UP)—The ancient university city of Bonn was selected as the provisional capital of the new west German state. The voting was secret. The west German constituent assembly, meeting in its final plenary session, gave 33 votes to Bonn against 26 for Frankfurt. Headquarters of the American military government, Stuttgart and Kassel had been eliminated from the peace earlier. Two Communists abstained. One ballot was declared invalid. Bonn, a city of 100,000 persons, is located on the Rhine near Cologne in the British occupation zone. Communists objected strenuously to the use of a secret ballot in choosing the capital, claiming it would set a bad example because all the work of the constitutional convention, including drafting of the constitution, had been conducted privately. The main objections the German politicians found to Frankfurt were that it was too close to the occupation authorities and lacked adequate facilities for housing a central government. The assembly, in a second vote, barred former Nazis from the presidency and seats in the parliament of the new state. The vote was 39 to 29.

Discuss Adult Study COLUMBUS, May 12—(AP)—International tasks of adult education are scheduled for discussion today at the annual meeting of the American Association for Adult Education. Some 200 delegates are registered for the three-day meeting, which opened Monday. About 11,000 Americans lost lives in fires each year, and more than half the victims are women and children.

Serve cup cakes made with Cuplets for your next dessert, tea or bridge party. Delicious plain or iced. For variety, add cinnamon, dates or chocolate.

Leornians Hear Speaker On Indian Lore; Install Officers For '49-50 Term

Mrs. John Hanna, retiring president of the Leornians, presented the gavel to Miss Helen Thorpe, 1949-50 president Wednesday evening at the guest night dinner meeting in the Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Executive officers besides Miss Thorpe include: First and second vice presidents, Mrs. Harry Loria and Mrs. Robert Middeker; secretary, Mrs. Elmer Stamp; and treasurer, Miss Ala Zimmerman.

A comprehensive discussion of the American Indian by Mrs. Harold Olds of Youngstown highlighted this pre-summer vacation meeting of the Leornians.

Mrs. Olds acquainted her audience with the supposed Mongolian origin of the American Indian; traced the various cultures—starting with the Seminoles of the south, and covering the tribes of the North American continent, including the Eskimo. The speaker has studied for 20 years the "Vanishing Americans" by visits among them.

"The four freedoms should be applied to the Indian," Mrs. Olds asserted. "We do not have to go overseas to practice this principle. The Indians should receive these benefits, as their history, since the coming of the white man, has been one of mismanagement. Many of the laws enacted for their aid have really boomeranged and are a detriment to their progress."

"The Indian is our home problem," Mrs. Olds concluded.

The 46 members and guests also enjoyed accordion duet selections, by Wilma Firestone and Joan Smith, entitled "Group March," "Blue Skirt Waltz" and encore number "Cruising Down the River." They were introduced by Miss Zimmerman.

Mrs. Hanna welcomed those present, introduced Mrs. Olds, and thanked the Leornians for their cooperation during the past year, before turning the meeting over to Miss Thorpe who appointed her committees.

The committees are: Program, Mrs. Alfred Fitch, Mrs. Dale Wilson, Mrs. Leonard Hoppes, Mrs. William Luce, Mrs. Glen Broomall; hospitality, Mrs. E. T. Treudick; Mrs. Walter Ferrall and Mrs. Jane Votaw;

Music, Mrs. Thomas Mercer, Mrs. Harris D. Harris and Mrs. William Baker; house, Mrs. Thelma Thomas, Miss Lola Roller and Mrs. Vernon Broomall; finance, Miss Zimmerman, Mrs. Stamp and Mrs. Harriet Percival; auditing, Mrs. Owen Naragon and Mrs. Clyde McFeely;

Parliamentarian, Mrs. Eugene Early; book, Mrs. Ernest Horton and Miss Elmer Currier; civic welfare, Mrs. Elmer Kerr, Mrs. Robert Buckholdt and Mrs. Wallace Duncan;

Mrs. Willard Cope will serve as critic at the October-November meetings; Mrs. George Perrault, January and February; Miss Kathryn Minth, March and April.

Mrs. Martin Roth, chairman of this year's hospitality committee, arranged for the delightful party last evening, assisted by Mrs. Hoppes, Miss Roller and Mrs. Wilson, and house committee members, Mrs. McFeely, Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Early.

Places at the T-shaped table were marked by potted marigold plants, which were individual favors. Lighted yellow candles were used effectively and a copper kettle held a large center bouquet of white lilacs and yellow tulips.

Mrs. Madeline Scullion, who underwent an operation in the Central Clinic, is at her home, N. Ellsworth ave. She is improving.

He recommended to students a recent book, "Raise Your Sights."

Tobin Blames South For T-H Change Loss

CLEVELAND, May 12—(INS)—Southern Democrats, not the Republicans in congress, ruined labor's hopes for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, in the opinion of one of labor's strongest union leaders.

Daniel J. Tobin, international president of the Teamsters union, said in Cleveland yesterday that the Democrats did not have working control of congress because of the "coalition between Republicans and southern Democrats."

The 74-year-old union leader arrived in Cleveland for the A. F. of L.'s executive board meeting next week.

He said one of the questions the board will discuss is the union's position on a compromise labor bill.

Tobin refused to predict the chances of Ohio Republican Senator Robert A. Taft, co-author of the Taft-Hartley law, for re-election. He said Sen. Taft's father, William Howard Taft, was defeated for President in 1912 "because he didn't keep his promises."

"It could happen again," he added.

MARION MOTHER LOST 45 LBS. WITH RENNEL

"Rennel has done wonders for me," writes Mrs. Roy Stapleton, 378 Avondale Ave., Marion, Ohio. "Since taking Rennel I have lost 45 lbs. in a little over four months. My dress size has changed from 48 to 20. I am 27 years of age, and the mother of four children. That means a lot of walking to watch the children, which was tedious work. But not any more, for I am lighter on my feet and feel fine."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unattractively fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Install Airport Lights

CLEVELAND, May 12—(AP)—A range of 22 powerful lights has been installed at Cleveland airport to make landings easier in rough weather.

Spaced 50 to 75 feet apart in a single line 1,650 feet long, the lights are the first of their type at a commercial airport in the country.

A group of pilots, newspapermen and Westinghouse Electric Co. met attended a final test last night. The lights cost the city $300,000.

It is estimated that if the world's entire population were to start counting the number of atoms in one drop of water, it would take 10,000 years to finish the job.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR VETERANS' GRAVES FOUND

LISBON, May 12—Graves of two Revolutionary war veterans in Columbiana county will be decorated this year for the first time, following their recent discovery by Max Gard, Lisbon, a member of the county historical society.

The war dead who will be honored at special ceremonies Sunday May 15, by the Bethia Southwick, Columbiana County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are Nicholas Miller and William Lee. The former is buried in a little family cemetery five miles west of Lisbon, on U. S. Route 30, on the Max Gard farm, while the latter's grave is on the Hugh Ramsey farm, three miles southwest of Lisbon on the old Dunganon road, in a family plot on the farm which he once worked.

Bronze plaques will be placed on the respective graves by the DAR chapter following memorial ceremonies conducted by the Rev. C. F. Kenneweg, pastor of the Lisbon United Presbyterian church, at each grave. The first will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the cemetery on the Gard farm, followed by a similar service at the Ramsey farm.

Nicholas Miller, who had served in the Revolutionary war as a captain of a company designated as Capt. Nicholas Miller's company of the 12th Pennsylvania regiment commanded by William Cook from

Oct. 1, 1776 to July 1, 1778, settled in Columbiana county in 1809.

He was granted a land patent on the Northeast Quarter of Section 24, Township 15, Range 4 (now known as Hanover township) about five miles west of New Lisbon. There in 1810 he built a mill on the banks of West Fork of Little Beaver creek, the abutments of which may still be seen. He married Barbara Rinehart at a Quaker ceremony in May, 1776 in Bedford county, Pennsylvania. He died March 15, 1844 and was buried in the Miller family cemetery on a hillside overlooking the Lincoln highway five miles west of Lisbon.

William Lee, a native of Nottingham, England, who came to America prior to the Revolution, served throughout the seven years of the war, and came to Columbiana county in 1793. He took up a soldier's patent on a Quarter Section of land in Middleton township. He later moved to a farm in Center township about three miles south of New Lisbon, where his death occurred Jan. 6, 1820 in his 81st year, and burial was made.

Will Take Patrol Kids To Cleveland Ball Game

LISBON, May 12—Plans are being made to treat the 140 school children who have served on the school patrol during the past year to a baseball game in Cleveland. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the Kiwanis safety committee, and service and fraternal groups here Wednesday evening, when it was decided to take the group to Cleveland by auto caravan June 3 to witness the Indians-Boston Red Sox game.

Says State Cheated
In BUC Money Spent

COLUMBUS, May 12—(AP)—The state is cheated out of 24 cents on every $1,000 it spends on unemployment compensation, Frank J. Collopy said today.

The administrator for the bureau of unemployment compensation reported the BUC now has an uncollected balance of $43,000 on its books. This was paid fraudulently, he said in a speech before the tenth annual Ohio Personnel Institute, sponsored by Ohio State University's business organization department.

The administrator reported about $190,000,000 has been paid out in benefits since the law went into effect.

"Since 1939," Collopy said, "we have investigated nearly 4,000 cases of suspected fraud, of which 2,500 were actually found to involve fraud. Of a total of approximately $172,000 involved in these cases, almost $125,000 have been recovered.

Jews 'Vanish' in Eastern Europe

Hitler's gas chambers and the post-war exodus to Israel have stripped eastern Europe of most of its estimated 5,000,000 pre-war Jewish population. By the end of this year less than 600,000 will remain in the "iron curtain" countries. This map gives the country-by-country figures with emigration-to-Israel quotas.

"Today, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has an uncollected balance of $43,000 on its books," Collopy added. "In short, the uncollected fraud balance averages roughly 24 cents for every thousand dollars paid out in benefits."

Rep. Gordon Renner (R-Hamilton) said in proposing his loyalty amendment: "We would be the laughing stock across the water if we permitted Communists and others advocating overthrow of the government by force to continue to draw unemployment benefits while they preach such doctrine."

House Majority Leader A. G. Lan-clone (D-Belmont) assailed the amendment. "It has no place in this bill; it is not an American amendment," he said.

Proposed changes defeated would:
restrict workers quitting for "just cause" to matters concerned with their jobs, eliminate the $2.50 dependency benefit, and allow jobless workers to refuse employment unless pay was equal to previous jobs.

The house labor committee previously wrote into the measure a ban on benefits to workers unemployed because of strikes in other plants or departments. It confirmed the senate-approved measure to existing provisions dealing with workers made idle by strikes.
Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), senate majority leader, led the fight against passage of the Lausche-opposed bills. She was aided by Sen. Howard M. Metz-baum (D-Cuyahoga), called by a colleague "the unofficial majority leader" during debate.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—What worries me about psychologists is that they worry about themselves.

And, particularly, I am worried about the state of life at which they worry over different things.

For days and days I have been mulling over a worry timetable presented recently at the Midwestern Psychological association meeting in Chicago.

It was a composite picture of what 109 elderly psychologists had worried most about at different ages. It left a lot of questions unanswered in my mind. And it also has left me even more convinced that I don't want any psychologists romping barefooted among my mental complexes.

HERETOFORE I had always thought of psychologists as white-coated men with bifocal glasses who spent their lives in dim laboratories peering at trapped white mice wandering in a cunning maze. They were supposed to learn from the mice great lessons to help mankind get out of its trap, too.

Judging from this worry timetable, however, I think the psychologists are caught in the maze. And I am beginning to wonder if the white mice aren't learning something about mental freedom from looking out at them.

The timetable shows that psychologists are at least as crass as the rest of us. In some ways they seem to have delayed reactions to life.

At 18, the survey showed, these foragers in the pastures of the brain are most concerned over idealism and personal development. At 20 they are in blue funk over their personal appearance, although most boys lose their pimples before then.

Comes the ripe old age of 23, and what is the fledgling psychologist fretting most about? Why, sexual morality. According to Dr. Kivsey's famed report, this is some four years after the average young man should find this his most pressing problem.

At 25 the psychologists bend their ids and ears to the task of making a good impression on people.

IT IS PERHAPS completely normal that at 31 they should be most interested in their personal business or professional success. But why, at 33, are they most worried over job security?

Why are these two years so critical?

Well, they jog on to 38 and are doubtful over their health. They hit 41 and mope over their political convictions. At 42 they have finally decided whether to vote Democratic or Republican—or go all out for Henry Wallace—and it is marital difficulties that plague them most.

And at 45 life has cut them down to their last two big worries. This is the year they pine over giving up their unfulfilled ambitions and turn again to their health. For the rest of their days nothing frustrates them more than how their ulcers are faring.

This worry table is rather disillusioning. It shows these fearless explorers of the mental jungle find no tigers therein that the average bank clerk or bus driver doesn't meet and grapple with. It makes psychologists so dull and ordinary.

What year do they worry most about the white mice? And who worries most—mice or psychologists?

Tradition Packs Columbiana County's Meet

46th Annual Competition Brings New Rivalry; Salem Hopes To Upset Palestine

The oldest county track meet in the state of Ohio. That's the Columbiana county affair, to be held here at 7:30 p. m. Friday at Reilly stadium.

A great deal of tradition surrounds the track meet. In its earlier days the county trophy was the most prized sports bauble to be had by any of the competing high schools. Of late, that fever has died down somewhat, but there is still a touch of it here and there.

One of the men who is still imbued with the "win at all costs" spirit is Bill Ward, cagey coach of the East Palestine Bulldogs, defending champions.

Ward has staged a bitter yearly duel with Fred Cope, Salem coach for several seasons, and indications are he is not going to let up due to the change in local mentors to Troy Penner. Ward brought his Bulldogs team to Reilly stadium Tuesday night and worked out to give the boys a feel of the strange track.

He'll be gunning for his second consecutive county win Friday. Before that Salem won two straight years. In the past 13 years East Palestine has won six times: 1940, '41, '42, '43, '45 and '48. The Quakers have taken seven top honors in '35, '37, '38, '39, '44, '46 and '47.

The Salem-East Palestine monopoly may be broken this time, however. The threat this year is East Liverpool, a team that looked tough to beat in a triangular meet here this spring. The Pottery, if they don't win the meet, may meet enough points to allow one of the other two schools to sneak in.

There will be six schools competing this week. Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Leetonia and Columbiana are all entered. In 1948 there were only three teams in the meet, with Columbiana able to tally only three points.

Scoring in the meet is usually 5-3-2-1, but with six schools entered the system may be changed by the coaches.

Records in the Columbiana county meet are equal to any in the state. Oldest on the books are those held by "Chalk" Gaines of Columbiana, an annual spectator of the event. His three marks, in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, were hung up between 1918 and 1920 and have not been seriously threatened since. Judging from performances of the 1949 crop of runners and jumpers, it doesn't appear likely that any of the marks will be erased Friday.

The records are:

Goshen Dropped In Ball Tourney By Lowellville

Lowellville won the Mahoning County Class B baseball championship by dropping Goshen Central, 5 to 1 at Lake Placid ball park yesterday.

DeMarsh and Deliska tossed for the winners with Flora behind the plate. Wyss and Schoen formed the Goshen battery. Mangine homered for Lowellville in the second with a mate aboard.

INJURY LIST ON WAY UP FOR TRIBE

CLEVELAND, May 12—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians rose to second place again today, but a growing injury list began to cause concern in the wigwag.

Breaking a three-game losing streak, the Tribesmen pounded out a 3 to 2 victory over the front-running New York Yankees last night.

The victory was costly, however. Bob Lemon, one of the club's pitching aces, tore a fibre muscle above his hip in warming up and was forced to leave the game after facing one batter.

Al Benton, the 38-year-old veteran who turned in a nifty exhibition in relieving Lemon, also fell under the injury jinx. A sore shoulder put him out in the seventh inning and he was expected to be sidelined until next week.

Fireballer Bob Feller and Gene Bearden already were benched by ailments. Feller has a sore arm, but is scheduled to return to action Sunday. Bearden is suffering from a pulled leg muscle.

Left Fielder Dale Mitchell scored the winning run for the World champions last night when Bob Porterfield tossed a wild pitch into the dirt.

The aging Benton held the Yankees to five hits during his seven innings and was credited with the victory. Bob Garcia hurled the last two innings for the Tribe, facing only six batters and giving up just one safety.

Louis Lets Reporters In On New Promotion Activity

By CHARLES EINHSTEIN

CHICAGO, May 12—(INS)—Joe Louis, resplendent in his blue suit, grey socks and black eye, sat back in the deep brown-leather chair of his new office at Chicago Stadium, and his voice became confidential.

"We," he said, meaning the International Boxing club, "should gross $300,000 from the gate alone on the Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott fight for the title."

Somebody said, "When do the tickets go on sale?"

Harry Mendel, promotional assistant to Mr. Louis, said, "The fight's not 'til June 22. Can't you wait?"

"All I wanted to know," the somebody said, "was when they go on sale."

"Went on sale Monday," Louis said.

"How many you sold so far?"

"None."

Leetonia McGuires Are Back In Action

LEETONIA, May 12—The re-organized Mickey McGuires have swung into action recently on village landlot diamonds in preparation for another season of softball. The club will field two teams in the 10 to 14 age bracket.

John Donnelly is serving as coach and advisor for the 30 boys. Jack Dattilio has been selected president, Bill Gibson, secretary, and Bob Finch, treasurer, in club elections. Fred Stumpo is captain of the older boys softball team.

There will be a club meeting on Thursday in Carl Varian's bus garage where the group has held three meetings this spring.

The teams are seeking a schedule of softball contests with youths of the same age in Salem and Leetonia areas. Coaches should contact Donnelly for dates.

To help meet shortages of fats and oils, Britain is operating a huge project for growing oil-rich peanuts in East Africa.

Historically, the peanut plant is believed to have migrated from Latin America to Europe to Africa and then to the United States.

Pay this bill for me, will you?

Suppose a stranger asked you to pay his electric light bill every month...

Farfetched idea? Not so — because you do help pay a lot of other people's electric bills every month!

Every time you buy cigarettes, matches, gasoline, a lipstick or a watch, or hundreds of other things, part of what you pay is a federal tax. And that same federal tax money helps pay those strangers' electric bills.

Here's why: the federal government is in the electric business in some parts of the country. It sells electric service to some people and to certain industries — below the real cost.

Who makes up the difference? You do — the government uses some of your taxes for that purpose.

We are against government-in-the-electric-business in America. Because it threatens all self-supporting electric companies. And because it is Socialization of one business, a long first step toward Socialization of all business.

Most Americans don't want that... Do you?

WASHINGTON GOES RIGHT ON WINNING ON QUEER 'MAGIC'

Kuhel's Formula Unknown,
But It Has Worked For Nine Straight Games

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Joe Kuhel, the amateur (?) magician who manages Washington, pulled a ninth rabbit out of his hat.

Nine straight wins by any Washington club, especially the lack luster 1949 version, call for an explosive mixture of voodoo charms and black magic. Mr. Kuhel must be a pro.

It's been years since Kuhel did this card tricks in public but he never unveiled a masterpiece like this one. Even his best friends refuse to believe their eyes.

Kuhel's sagging Senators started west on their first road trip, 10 days ago, eight games below .500. They had won only three of 14. Even the woe-begone St. Louis Browns were ahead of them in the league standings.

Two straight at Chicago, three more in St. Louis and three more over Cleveland, two by shutouts, brought them to Detroit for No. 9 yesterday. They hoped to leave Detroit tonight with 10 in a row.

There were days when Washington had a tough time hitting the ball out of the infield. Not now. They shilledagled Detroit, 11-1, yesterday with a five-run first inning against Stubby Overmire.

Kuhel even used two pitchers. When Paul Culbert, pitching a one-hitter, developed a blister on his pitching hand in the fifth, he called on Dick Wolderoth. You needed a microscope to notice the difference. Detroit had only three hits.

The World Champion Cleveland Indians, relieved of the Washington plague after losing three games, welcomed the league-leading New York Yankees. They won a 5-2 game before 6,172 chilled but admiring customers. It was the top night crowd of the year, second only to Cleveland's opening day.

Bob Porterfield of the Yanks lost his own game when he uncorked a wild pitch in the seventh, permitting Dale Mitchell to score the winning run.

The Boston Red Sox continued to find it tough going in the west as they were outscored by Chicago, 12-8. The White Sox, another surprise entry, tied an American league record by scoring in every inning with an assortment of 15 hits, five walks, a wild pitch, walk and four errors—three by Bobby Deer.

Rookie Jack Graham bombarded Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz with two doubles and a single, driving in two runs and scoring two in St. Louis 5-4 win over the A's. The

SPORTS

Class A Softball To Start Monday; Schedule Released

Providing good weather prevails, the city softball league will begin play Monday evening, J. M. Kelley, league manager, announced today.

The 1949 setup includes two leagues—American and National—each containing nine teams. The leagues will battle all summer, with the four top nine in each meeting in a Shaughnessy playoff to determine the league champion.

The two champs will tangle for the city title under the Reilly field lights at the end of the season.

Kelley said games will be played at West End park four nights each week and at Centennial park on Mondays and Thursdays. That will account for 16 games each week, 12 at West End and four at Centennial.

Game times at Centennial park will be 5:45 and 6:45 and at the new diamond at 6:30 and 8:30, he said.

The American league will include the following teams: Amvets, Diner, Deming, Democrats, Saxons, Sanitary, Parker Chevrolet, Sweetie Ceramics and the Jaycees.

The National loop will feature the Salem Chino, 1948 champions; Bliss, VFW, Lisbon VFW, Fisher News, Mullins, Electric Furnace, Igloo and C.I.O. 3816.

The first round schedule follows:

Monday, May 16
Centennial Park
5:45—Sanitary vs Jaycees (A)
6:45—Saxons vs Amvets (A) clever little southpaw who pitched spectacular relief ball against Detroit last week, struck out nine Brownies but couldn't stop Graham.

Warren Spahn, pitching back to his 1947 form, hurled his second shutout and fourth straight victory for Boston, with a three-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0.

They finally stopped the New York Giants after seven straight wins. Cincinnati's Howie Fox did the trick, 4-2. The Reds, normally no fence busters, shelled Montie Kennedy from the box in the sixth.

Pittsburgh's rookie left-hander, Bill Werle, survived a ninth-inning uprising by Brooklyn to win a 5-3 decision.

Chicago ended Ken Heintzelman's four-straight win streak by coming from behind to nip the Phillies, 4-2.

BOUDREAU NAMES HIS 1949 STARS FOR REPORTERS

CLEVELAND, May 12—(AP)—For a press conference of high school newspaper writers, Manager Lou Boudreau of the World Champion Cleveland Indians today picked a 1949 American league "dream team."

With proper modesty, the Tribe shortstop named Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox to the shortstop position.

He passed up his own star catcher, Jim Hegan, to choose Birdie Tebbetts of Boston as backstop.

Unable to decide between Ken Keltner of the Indians and George Kell of Detroit, he named both for the third base position. Cleveland's Joe Gordon won the second baseman's job, and Ferris Fain of Philadelphia was assigned to first base.

Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee Clipper, was missing. Boudreau said, "because I'm naming only the men who are playing this season, and since DiMaggio hasn't played, he can't be included."

No pitcher was named. Boudreau said, "because I'd have eight or 10 there."

Later, however, he told another teen-age questioner that the American league pitchers he had "most trouble battling against" were Hal Newhouse of Detroit, Vic Raschi of New York and Rae Scarborough of Washington.

Of course someone asked: "How are chances for another championship?"

Boudreau ducked with: "The league as a whole has improved a lot. By that, I mean that the second division clubs are all better, and they're making it tougher for the first division teams. I think it will be a close race this year, but not as close as last year—at least, I hope not."

Other questions brought information from Boudreau that he thinks Bob Feller will win 20 games this year; that Don Black will take a year to 18 months to "get all his strength back;" and that Lou has been hit so many times this year "because they're aiming at me."

MUNICIPALITIES WOULD LIKE TO CURB COMMISSION

COLUMBUS, May 12—(AP)—Ohio municipalities would like to curb the powers of county budget commissions.

During the past year some cities have complained the budget commissions allocated county governments too big a share of local government funds. These are made up of sales tax and other money earmarked for local governments by the legislature.

The executive committee of the Ohio Association of Municipalities decided yesterday to offer a bill to the legislature designed to give cities a bigger cut of the funds. The measure would restrict budget commissions to allocating county governments not more than was allocated in 1948.

The proposal was agreed upon at a meeting called by the committee to consider measures before the legislature to provide financial relief for municipalities.

Mayor Michael Di Salle of Toledo said the committee decided "it's rather useless to make a fight for additional funds if something is not done to guarantee that the additional money made available be assured to the municipalities." Di

Salle is chairman of the executive committee.

The committee deferred, Di Salle said, recommendations on legislative proposals affecting municipalities. He added, however, it discussed proposed gross sales tax and other tax measures.

The committee plans to meet again the night of May 18 either in Columbus or Wilmington. The Association of Municipalities will meet in Wilmington May 19 to discuss legislation.

NEW GARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Messer entertained at a family dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wilson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hawkins and family of Negley.

Mrs. Harvey Fife, who has been ill, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Walton of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Liber visited Sunday with his brother in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Regis Englert of Salem spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Englert.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Amos visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shive of Lisbon.

Conveyor Belt Gets 2nd Defeat

COLUMBUS, May 12—(UP)—The proposed Lorain-to-East Liverpool conveyor belt system remained only a dream in its originators' minds today after taking its second beating in the Ohio legislature.

The senate judiciary committee last night refused to recommend for passage a bill to give the conveyor belt companies the right of eminent domain to acquire rights-of-way to build the "rubber railroad."

The conveyor belt received its strongest support from the Akron, Canton & Youngstown railway and Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Other railroads bitterly condemned the idea, claiming it would do serious harm to their business.

Only three senators voted to recommend the measure while five voted against it. Another motion to indefinitely postpone action failed to receive sufficient support. Had the move succeeded, the bill might have been brought up for reconsideration.

A similar bill has been indefinitely postponed by the house industry and labor committee. It appeared doubtful that any further action will be taken in this session of the legislature.

As proposed, the belt would have stretched 103-miles from Lorain to East Liverpool with branches to Cleveland and Youngstown. It would have been used principally for hauling coal, iron ore and limestone.

Flood Damage Suit In Cleveland Court

CLEVELAND, May 12—(AP)—The Accurate Die Casting Co. wants some $385,000 from the city for flood damage.

In a common pleas court action yesterday, the concern said the damage was caused by flash floods over the past two years.

It contended they resulted when the city filled in Kingsbury run and changed the "surface water flow."

City Service Director Samuel F. David said an $850,000 storm sewer to be constructed will prevent future floods in the neighborhood.

Bank of England "Honest Woman" Now, Still Goes On

By GLENN WILLIAMS
LONDON, May 12—(AP)—The old lady of Threadneedle street has been an honest woman for more than three years.

The old lady, as most people know, is a familiar name for the Bank of England. Public ownership, which took effect March 1, 1946, made her an "honest woman" or, as bank and British treasury officials agree, it "legalized the position."

It didn't change much otherwise. The 255-year-old bank manages the national debt, issues money, stores the nation's thinning gold hoard, sells and redeems government securities, controls foreign exchange, and does any other needful financial chores. It did all these things before nationalization.

This whole arrangement grew up informally, with the government simply using the privately owned Bank of England as its banker. Its 14,553,000 pounds worth of stock paid handsome 12 per cent dividends.

Taking it into government hands was the first nationalization project of the labor government.

Prof. Harold Laski, a socialist intellectual who was head of the Labor party at that time, stated the Socialist case: "We can not achieve a planned economy without control of the central bank."

So the government took it over by act of Parliament, with little political opposition. It paid off the stock at 400 pounds ($1,600) in government securities for each 100 pounds ($400) share, but cut the interest rate to three per cent. Quadrupling of the stock and quartering the interest rate gave the old shareholders the same income on their investment.

Only one clause gave the government more power. All the other banks in the country are privately owned; the nationalization bill authorized the bank to "make recommendations to bankers" and issue directions to reinforce them.

Thus the government, through the bank gained direction of banking policies. So far it has not needed to use that power.

Meantime, the old lady of Threadneedle street goes her way as always, handling day to day operations without government interference.

The bank was founded because

Ford Workers Draw Unemployment Compensation

As Ford Company and CIO-United Auto Workers' Union officials met in an effort to settle the week-old strike in key Ford plants, Detroit workers idled by the strike through no fault of their own lined up to apply for Michigan unemployment compensation. Some 85,000 workers in associated industries have been idled because of the strike and the number may rise to 145,000 in event of a prolonged stoppage, observers say.

Ferguson Denies Seeking U. S. Senate Seat

COLUMBUS, May 12—(AP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson—seldom one to shun the political spotlight—denied last night that he is officially in the race for Robert A. Taft's senate seat.

The denial followed an announcement by Walter H. Fix, Democratic chairman of Crawford county (Pa.) that national Democratic headquarters informed him Ferguson would run for the Democratic nomination in 1950.

And what's more, said Fix, the organization is going to back Ferguson in the campaign.

Not so, said a Democratic spokesman in Washington, because the national committee never interferes in local primaries.

Reached for comment, Ferguson conceded it's no secret he's planning to run, but he won't declare officially until next summer.

"Must have gotten his signals crossed," said Ferguson, who added he has been assigned to speak at a Jefferson-Jackson day banquet at Meadville, Pa., May 14. The misunderstanding, said the auditor, most likely occurred when the national committee in making the assignment mentioned his potential candidacy for the senate.

Attendance experts estimate horse racing draws an estimated annual gate of 27,000,000 customers.

Falls in the home and barn cause more injuries than any other type of farm accident.

VINCENT M. VORUM SEES THAT BURKHARDT'S GETS ITS FLAVOR FROM THE HEART OF THE HOPS

Vorum adds the heart of the hops

It is really the hearts of the hops—the innermost parts of the tender buds of the hops plant—that gives Burkhardt's Beer and Mug Ale their distinctive flavor.

And Vincent M. Vorum is responsible for this part of the brewing process, the addition of this vital ingredient to our brews. Under his eye, the rich warm wort pours into this huge kettle which is the heart of brewery operation.

Hops are added and Vorum watches the mass while it boils for a couple of hours! All this, of course, is done under the guidance of the master brewer.

Vorum looks for a good "break" as it's called. With his experience, he can tell whether the process is going as it should.

In the picture above, he's inspecting a sample he just dipped out of the kettle. He pronounced it a good "break". Of course, the fact that he has only the finest of hops to work with makes it easier for him to be sure of a good brew.

When we talk about Vorum's experience, we're referring to more than 15 years in our own operation. In that time he has mastered almost every job that has to do with making a fine beer.

He comes from Meadowlands, a small town in Pennsylvania, and he came to Akron back in the 20's. He married an Akron girl and they make their home on East Crozier Street.

We're proud to have men like Vorum working with us. Proud that they've enjoyed their work and stayed with us so long.

We're proud of their skill and experience which—added to superb ingredients—give Burkhardt's the distinctive flavor that so many people like best.

Drink the beer these men make and drink themselves—Burkhardt's Beer, from the heart of the hops.

TWO-PRONGED OFFENSIVE by Chinese Communist forces is forging advances along the Hangchow-Nanchang railway with Changsha the possible goal, and southward toward Fukien province, with advance spearheads reported as far as Yuanshan (underlined). In the Shanghai area the Reds are only 10 miles from Woosung, only outlet left to the big port.

THERE'S PURGE TALK IN WASHINGTON AGAIN

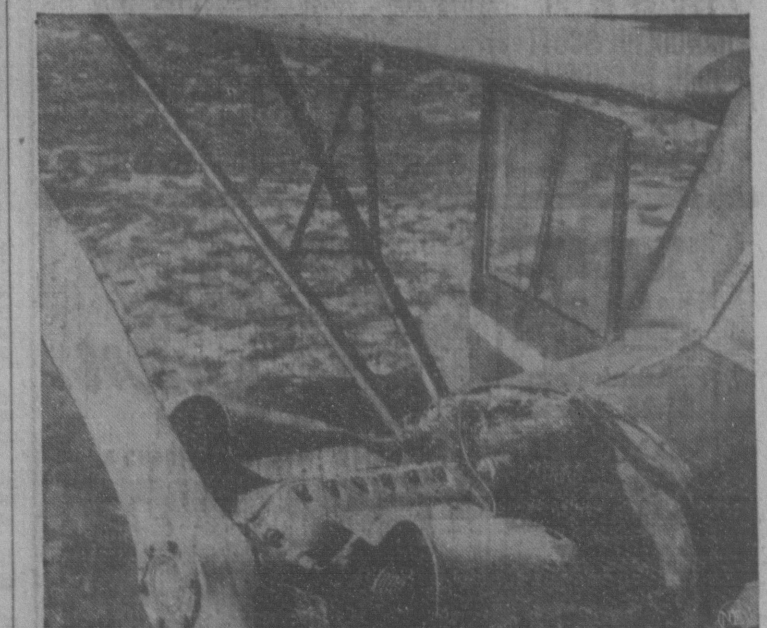

"You want to purge in Congress," President Truman is quoted. QUESTION OF "PURGING" is topic in Washington again with President Truman being quoted by Gilbert Harrison of Washington, chairman of the American Veterans Committee, as saying "There are too many Reds in Congress." Harrison said Truman advised the veterans to get back (Harrison) and say to it that they must compromise who deal the heavy blows of the purge. (International)

Bird Builds Its 'Castle' in the Air

James Worsham, of Powhatan, Va., was more than a little surprised to find a bird's nest under the cowling of his private plane, top. He discovered the nest, complete with three eggs (below), when he landed in Richmond, Va., to have his motor checked. Twigs, straw and feathers were wound tightly around ignition wires to make the nest secure. Worsham took his plane back to Powhatan and parked it in the same spot, hoping the air-minded mother bird would come back to it.

"Will not accept dictatorship," Byrd says in typewritten reply. dent means he will attempt to purge me...because I will not accept his dictatorship in matters of legislation then I will be on hand when the purge starts? SAYS LOCAL TAXES ARE LEGAL IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, May 12—(UP)—Local governments can levy sales and liquor excise taxes despite the fact the state collects such taxes, if the legislature gives its approval, Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy said today.

Duffy told Gov. Frank J. Lausche the general assembly had the power to authorize local levies of sales and liquor taxes.

The attorney general also told the governor that no additional licenses may be required of restaurants by local governments because both the state and local boards of health require restaurants to obtain licenses.

"The implied prohibition arising from the entry of the state into a particular field of taxation may, if the general assembly of Ohio desires, be removed by the use of appropriate language," Duffy said.

The attorney general pointed out that the 1946 decision of the Ohio supreme court invalidating the Youngstown utility tax was in keeping with decision which previously held that the state by entering a field of taxation preempts that field.

"However, this and other decisions do not expressly hold that such implied limitation could not be overcome by the use of appropriate language by the general assembly," Duffy said.

Lausche, in a letter requesting the opinion, said there had been considerable discussion concerning constitutional right of the legislature to tax in certain fields while at the same time granting powers of taxation in the same fields to cities, townships or counties.

Lausche asked, "Would it be constitutional for the legislature to grant authority to local governments to collect a sales tax beginning at a point where the state's right has ended?"

"The state of Ohio now collects a three per cent sales tax," Lausche said. "Could the legislature grant the authority to collect from a point beyond the three cents up to four cents?"

The governor asked the same question in regard to licensing of restaurants by both the state and local governments, and to issuance of liquor licenses.

LABORER ACCUSED BY FERGUSON NOW

COLUMBUS, May 12—(AP)—A "laborer" in Cleveland's Department of Public Safety today was accused by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson of defrauding the city of some $15,700.

The state auditor reported Wyatt M. Nichols, former supervisor of Cleveland's civilian school guards, "padded" the guards' payroll and issued fraudulent city checks to friends, relatives and fictitious persons. Ferguson said the checks totaled $15,739.16.

Nichols, who resigned March 20, 1948, has assumed responsibility, Ferguson added. The entire amount has been recovered, Ferguson said. He reported an investigation conducted by State Examiners Walter C. Jones and Jason Canfield disclosed Nichols was listed as a "laborer."

Nichols, the auditor added, had complete authority in hiring and firing more than 200 school guards. He also was responsible for the $143,000 annual payroll, Ferguson reported.

In a written statement, Jones and Canfield reported "the situation, as disclosed, is not legal, not reasonable nor understandable. That a common laborer could be placed and continued in a position of uncurbed power and influence as he wielded over a period beyond that of five and a half years clearly reveals an indifference and lack of concern on the part of those in whose hands rests the responsibilities of the honest and faithful supervision of Cleveland's department of public safety."

Ferguson said the investigation started in March, 1948, after Mayor Thomas A. Burke received an anonymous "tip-off" letter on Nichols' activities.

The state auditor reported persons who received fraudulent pay checks had paid back to the city a total of $4,679.59 before his investigation started.

Farmer's Take Of Housewife's $1 Down

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

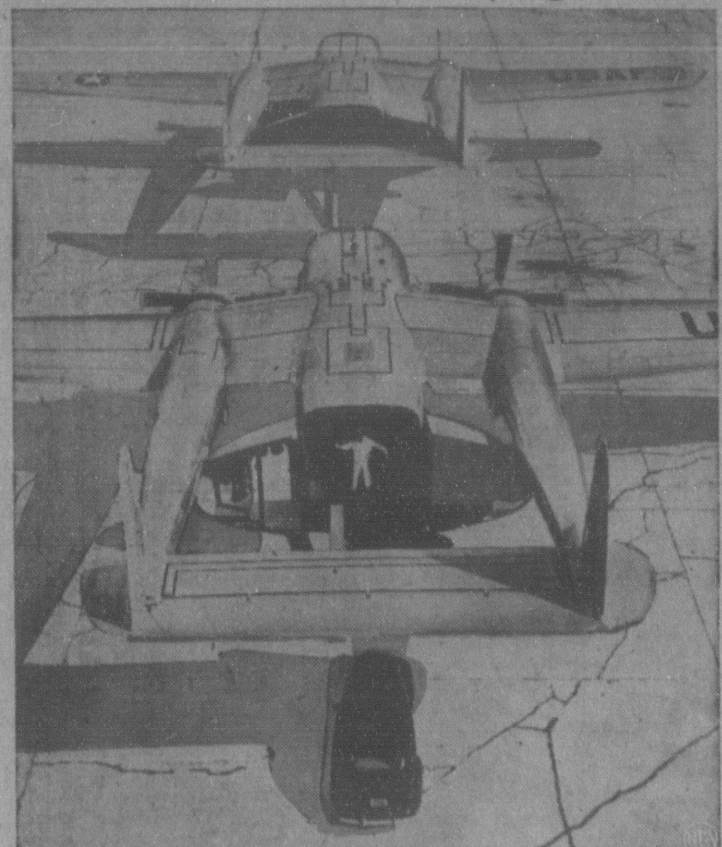

AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—The farmer's share of the housewife's dollar is dropping, the agriculture department reports.

Last July the farmer got an average of 53 cents out of every dollar the consumer spent for market basket foods.

But by this February his share had declined to 50 cents, while the middleman's had climbed by three cents.

The department uses as its yardstick a family "market basket"—the average quantity of farm food

Here's '49 Model of Flying Boxcar

A passenger car prepares to climb the ramp leading into this new C-119 cargo plane, latest of the flying boxcar line, in Hagerstown, Md. The clam-like door is 14 inches wider than those used on the C-82, providing an entrance opening as wide as the cargo hold itself. Note comparative size of man standing in doorway. It also allows for the simultaneous jumping of two sticks of paratroopers. The Air Force now has 100 of them on order.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Would You Say It?

Curley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Curley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South, "He means a 'poke of see-ment.'"

It was good for a chuckle, anyway. Bag, sack or poke—we knew what he was trying to say. It just depends on where you are in the U. S., which way sounds right.

From where I sit, whenever we criticize someone for sounding funny to us, we ought to think how we sound to them. It's the same as choosing your liquid refreshment. I'm accustomed to a moderate glass of beer—you may like ginger ale—but who's to say the other's wrong? I'd say we're both right!
